The Daily Press.

HONGKONG, JULY 7th, 1914.

ALTHOUGH it is not yet possible apparently—and very likely never will be possible—to measure the extent of damage done by the disastrous floods in the regions of the West River in figures giving an adequate idea of the financial loss suffered by the riverine population, the accounts we have published make plain the fact that an appalling amount of distress must have been caused in this populous region. We learn it is estimated that at least a million persons have been rendered destitute. No one can read the reports of the havoc caused by these devastating floods and remain unsympathetic towards the sufferers, and we are sure that the action taken by H.E. THE GOVERNOR in convening a special meeting of the Legislative Council of Hongkong, and asking it not only to pass a message of sympathy but to vote a sum of $50,000 out of the general revenue of the Colony in aid of the relief of the sufferers, will be approved by the community. The money was voted unanimously. His EXCELLENCY mentioned that this was intended to be the nucleus of a public subscription to be raised in the Colony and that he purposes appointing a representative Committee to undertake this work. We are sure that, with the splendid example already set by the Chinese community, who have to date subscribed no less a sum than $65,000, the total contribution from this Colony will reach a figure far in excess of any subscription previously raised for the relief of distress outside the Colony. This is not the first time that the Colony has been moved to assist in the relief of distress caused in South China, but the record for the Colony in the way of charitable subscriptions is the $250,000—all but $11,000 of it contributed by residents of Hongkong or by firms doing business with Hongkong—in aid of the relief of sufferers by the memoable typhoon of September 18th, 1905, which wrought such appalling havoc in the harbour and adjacent waters of the Colony. In sending Mr. A. E. WOOD up the West River to assist the Chinese Charitable Society and the Chinese Authorities in the organisation for the distribution of relief, HIS EXCELLENCY is following the precedent of 1903, when this Colony raised a public subscription, which amounted to nearly $49,000, for the relief of sufferers by famine in the Province of Kwangsi, and Mr. CLEMENTI was seconded for relief work there. The trade interests of this Colony in the West River districts are of such very considerable importance that these devastating floods must adversely affect the business of merchants here for some time to come, and it need not be pointed out that in assisting to relieve the dire distress of the population they are at the same time assisting the recovery of trade from the severe blow it has received. But while the first need of the starving communities along the course of the river is food, we may venture to emphasise the duty that rests upon the Chinese Authorities to take all possible precautions against the outbreak of devastating epidemics when the waters have subsided. HONAN, the Province adjoining Kwangtung, has also suffered seriously, in parts, from floods during the past month, and we notice in one of the reports the statement that a special donation to the Police Commissioner of Changsha of Tls. 1,000 was used to purchase carbolic, chlorinated lime, lime, and other disinfectants. A special corps of 400 coolies under 100 supervisors was trained in the use of disinfectants by Dr. HUME and Dr. YEN of the Yale Mission, and the people themselves cleaned their houses thoroughly and quickly and welcomed the disinfectors. Commissioner CHANG's proclamations on the liability of disease following the flood are described as thoroughly modern in tone. It is to be hoped that this excellent example will be speedily followed in the West River towns; otherwise the people will have reason to fear worse dangers even than the floods.

The French and English mails of the 2nd and 6th June were delivered in London on the 4th July.

It is announced that the meeting of the Portuguese Benevolent Society has been postponed from Thursday next to Thursday, 23rd instant, at 6 p.m.

On the application of Inspector Terrett, Mr. J. R. Wood discharged the Filipino who has been detained in custody in connection with the alleged embezzlement of a sum of money in the Philippine Islands.

Captain H. K. Hughes, 1st Battalion the King's Own Yorkshire Light Infantry, Singapore, has just been appointed to the adjutancy of his battalion. Captain Hughes was appointed to the Yorkshire Light Infantry in 1901, and he has served with them as captain since June, 1909.

At the Magistracy yesterday three men were charged with conspiracy. It appeared that the men were employed by the police as informers, and threatened the keeper of an opium den that if he did not hand each of them $15 they would betray him to the authorities. The keeper then complained to the police. Inspector Terrett asked for the discharge of the men, which was granted. The men were, however, re-arrested outside the Court.

A NATIONAL MUSEUM FOR CHINA WANTED.

Referring to the Order of the President respecting the preservation of antiquities, Peking suggests that a museum at Peking would have a better effect than laws and regulations threatening punishment to those who export these antiquities. "We should collect them ourselves if we want them; that is the only way of preventing others collecting them." The author of the article regrets that the Government on account of the financial stringency was not able to buy the collection made by the late Viceroy Tuan Fang which has been offered to the Government for $120,000, but says that whatever outlay is necessary in establishing the proposed museum is more than warranted.

A FRENCH DRESSMAKER'S LOSS.

At the Magistracy yesterday, a Chinese houseboy, employed at the Zetland House Hotel, was charged with the larceny of $70, the property of a French dressmaker, named Eugenie Esnault, employed at Madame Flint's establishment.

Complainant said that on Tuesday night last before retiring to rest in her room at the hotel she placed a certain amount of money and other things in a purse, under her pillow. On the following morning the defendant, came in at about 7 o'clock, and informed her that her bath was ready. Witness went to her bath, and returned to her room about ten minutes later. She did not see the defendant in her room then. A little later witness saw him taking down the mosquito curtains from the bed. The defendant went out with the curtains, and soon afterwards witness discovered that her purse had gone. She called for a Mr. Sanderson, a neighbour, who spoke French, and told him that some person had stolen her purse. Mr. Sanderson advised an examination of the room, suggesting that perhaps the purse had fallen down somewhere. A sea-captain who was staying at the hotel searched the defendant, but found nothing on him. Eventually the purse was found behind a screen which stood in front of her trunk, but $70 had been taken from it. As far as she knew, nobody except the defendant had come into her room in the morning. She made it a practice of always examining her purse both before going to bed and when rising in the morning. She saw the money on the Tuesday night, and it was there still on the following morning at 8 o'clock. Witness thought the defendant got into her room while she was in the bath, and hid behind the screen. The "boy" had never come into her room after announcing that "the bath was ready" on any previous occasion.

Cross-examined by Mr. Otto Kong Sing, who defended, witness affirmed that no one entered her room except the defendant.

Mr. Kong Sing—You are quite certain Mr. Sanderson did not?—Yes, I am. He said "Good morning" to me from his verandah just after 6 o'clock. He says "Good-morning to you every morning, does he not?—Yes, and every night he says "Good-night." Now, before this alleged theft, were you in your own room all night?—Yes. Witness, in answer to further questions, said she could not remember what time she went to bed that night. If she went to the cinematograph theatre that night, then it must have been rather late. She could not remember if Mr. Sanderson came home with her that night, but if she went to the theatre it was certain that he came with her. She could not remember if she went on that night. Mr. Sanderson and witness were rather friendly, because he spoke French, while witness could not speak English. She denied that Mr. Sanderson was in her room on the morning of the theft.

Mr. Otto Kong Sing asked for the discharge of the defendant.

His Worship said he believed the lady had lost the money, and he was very sorry for her. The defendant would be discharged.

AN INSANE CHINESE AT WANCHAI.

POLICE INJURED.

A Chinese, who is said to have newly arrived in the Colony from Canton, suddenly went mad on Saturday afternoon. His extraordinary behaviour drew the attention of a large crowd of people, and to escape them he dashed into a coffin shop in Queen's Road East, and went up to a cockloft. The police were informed, and Inspector McHardy, Sergt. Pitt, and P.C. Swan soon appeared and laid siege to the premises. The madman hurled stones and any missiles that happened to be at hand at the officers, and P.C. Swan, who had pluckily entered the cockloft, received an ugly blow over the head from a carpenter's Wop, which necessitated his removal to the Hospital. Inspector McHardy was also struck with a heavy piece of timber. A hose pipe was turned upon the madman through a hole in the cockloft and he was eventually grabbed by the leg and bound, after which he was removed to the Asylum.

Witness, preceding, said the men on the wharf were placed among a contingent numbering about 50, and he picked them out. The whole of the contingent were dressed alike.

The hearing was remanded.

BRUTAL MURDER AT TAIKOO DOCK.

A Chinese privately employed by the Taikoo Dock to watch for thieves at the dock was murdered on Saturday by a man who is not yet under arrest. It is thought that his assailant was a thief whom the detective caught in the act of stealing. When the detective sought to capture him, he turned round and stabbed him in the breast with a knife.

A SHANTUNG HAWKER'S ADVENTURE.

ATTACKED AND ROBBED BY INDIANS.

Before Mr. J. R. Wood, at the Magistracy yesterday, a Sepoy in the 36th Punjab was charged with being concerned in a robbery with violence, committed on a Shantung silk hawker on the peak overlooking the barracks at Rennie's Mills on the 30th June.

Mr. G. R. Sayer (Assistant-Superintendent of Police) prosecuted.

Complainant, who spoke a dialect seldom heard in the local Courts, appeared to be an exceptionally intelligent man for his class. He stated that on the last day of June he walked from Kowloon City en route to Hang Hau. At about 11 a.m. he reached the barracks, and stood about 30 paces away and looked around. Several Indians, including the defendant, then beckoned to him to come down, and indicated by signs that they wished to buy some of his goods, composed of three qualities of silk. He sold two pieces of silk, one for $10, and the other for $4, and then prepared to return to Kowloon. Seven or eight of the men asked him if he was returning to Hongkong, and he said "Yes," and they then pointed out a way for him to go back. He observed one of the men who had bought a piece of silk signing by a gesture of his hand for him to go another way, and he also made a sign which seemed to suggest that the men would rob him. Witness went the way indicated by the several men, and upon reaching the top of the peak sat down by a large stone to rest. It took him some time like half an hour to reach this spot. Suddenly witness saw three Indians, one of whom was the defendant. They did not come up to him together. One man came up first, and asked "How much?" Then the defendant came up from behind and seized him by the throat, while a third man twisted his left arm behind his right, and rendered him powerless. The defendant then came round to gag and bind him, and then looked at his face for a time. Witness hit with an umbrella the man who first approached him.

His Worship—What did the first man do?—Oh, he did nothing. He waited until the other men had tied me up, and then he took all my things, and went away. That is all. (Laughter.)

Continuing his story, the complainant said that his assailants tore the cloth covering his silk, and placed one piece round his mouth. They took off his girdle, after extracting all the money, and tied up his legs with it. The money amounted to about $20. The defendant and the third man laid witness out "properly" on the ground, and placed his straw hat on his head.

Mr. Sayer—Was the sun shining at the time?—Yes, it was shining very fiercely, and the Indians opened my umbrella and placed it beside me to protect me from the sun. (Laughter.)

Witness said that he struggled to get free from his bonds, and eventually got loose. He saw the Indians go down the hill which he had ascended, in the direction of the barracks. He was afraid to follow them, as they might assault him again, so he went straight back to Kowloon City, where he arrived at about 6 o'clock. He walked all the way with one shoe only, the other having been broken in the struggle and lost. He informed the Inspector at the Kowloon City Police Station of the affair, and the next day he took the Inspector to the scene. On the Thursday he went with the Assistant-Superintendent of Police to the barracks at Rennie's Mills, where a great many soldiers paraded for identification.

Asked about how many were there, the witness made a sweeping movement with his arms, positively beamed at the recollection of the event, and said he could not say, but there were many lines of them. He walked along each line, and scrutinised every man. He identified the defendant, but failed to pick out the other two men who assaulted him. He picked out the man who bought from him. When he came to the defendant he recognised him immediately, bent down, and cried. Before he went up to the men on parade he saw about 10 or 11 men on the wharf. Of these one was in Court now. Witness unhesitatingly pointed to a native officer sitting in Court.

Mr. Sayer—That is quite true, your Worship. This man has a wonderful memory for faces.

Witness, preceding, said the men on the wharf were placed among a contingent numbering about 50, and he picked them out. The whole of the contingent were dressed alike.

The hearing was remanded.

WEST RIVER FLOODS.

HIS EXCELLENCY—Gentlemen, I asked you to come here to-day in order that we might move the resolution which appears on the orders of the day. You all know, of course, that there have been very disastrous floods on the West River, and although I cannot give you full particulars of the distress occasioned thereby it is no doubt widespread. This is an extract from a despatch from the Tutuh responsible for the Province to the Consul-General, whom I asked to make inquiries on the subject. It says:—

"The floods this year have been more disastrous than any that have been known for many years. In the districts of Kwangchow and Shaoching a clean sweep has been made of all the dykes, the worst destruction having been caused at the Lo Ko, Ting An, and Sang Yuen dykes in the Namboi District, and at the Yeng Lo dyke in the Sau Hui District. The victims of the floods are scattered all over the country and their state is indeed pitiful to look upon. In connection with the local charitable societies and institutions, I am doing my utmost to provide the relief that is required, and in response to your telephone message I have the honour to send you this brief description of the state of things with the request that you will be good enough to convey it to His Excellency the Governor of Hongkong."

In order to gain further particulars I sent out Mr. A. E. Wood, the first Assistant Secretary for Chinese Affairs, and he has just returned from Canton, and says most excellent work is being done by the Government and by the charitable society there known as the Kaa Tsoi Kung Shu, who have already sent vast quantities of rice to the starving people right up as far as Nanning. The Tung Wah Hospital in this Colony has already sent food to the value of $50,000 to the Kaa Tsoi Kung Shu for distribution, while the proposal now is, if you vote the money which appears on the orders of the day, to make that the nucleus of a public subscription, and that subscription would be raised by a committee, which I propose to appoint of all nationalities here in the Colony—Chinese, British, and other Europeans and Americans. Then, in order to assist the Chinese Charitable Society and the Chinese Authorities themselves in the organisation for the distribution, I propose, with their concurrence, which they have already given, that Mr. Wood shall proceed to the Shiu Hing District and there assist in the organisation of the distribution of food, and subsequently in such other relief work as there may be funds for. The Tutuh has very kindly offered to place a gunboat at his disposal, which will be moored at Shiu Hing for Mr. Wood's accommodation, and Mr. Wood will act there in conjunction with a local official on the spot who already has a very good grip of the situation. I think that these arrangements will be practically under Government auspices, and Mr. Wood at Shiu Hing will be the agent of the Government and of the subscribers to the fund, and he will communicate with us from time to time of the progress made and as to the necessity of funds. I hope that these arrangements meet with your approval, and if they do I shall proceed, after the vote has been taken, to appoint a committee the names of which will be published in due course. I can only say I have not the slightest doubt that I echo the views of all the members of the Council and the community in general when I say that we deeply sympathise with the population in the district in the neighbouring province which has been visited by this terrible disaster.

Hon. Mr. WEI YUK—I beg to second your Excellency's resolution.

The resolution, which was as under, was then read by His Excellency, put to the meeting, and carried unanimously:—

That this Council on behalf of the community of Hongkong desires to express the deepest sympathy with the sufferers by the recent disastrous floods in the West River, and it is further resolved that a sum of $50,000 be disbursed from the General Revenue of the Colony for the relief of those who are in distress.

ITS EXCELLENCY—There is no further business, gentlemen. Thank you for your attendance.

PEKING NOTES.

(FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.)

PEKING, June 24th.

"A LEGALLY CONSTITUTED ASSEMBLY."

The event of the week is, of course, the inauguration of the Tsan Chung Yuan, the advisory chamber which the President has called into being to assist him in the affairs of State. The ceremony, which took place in the Parliament Building, could not be described as elaborate. Indeed it was fairly simple. The most imposing features were really the soldiers who lined the route taken by the Vice-President of the Republic, General Li Yuan Hung. They looked very smart in their coloured tunics and German style head-dress. The General drove to the ceremony in the President's armoured motor car, a protection which he does not need, as he is very popular and there is little fear of an attack being made on his life.

The address of the President read by the Secretary of State was a very tactful utterance. He commented on the fact that among the men there that day were men who had built up the Republic, and there were men who represented the best intellect of the Manchu régime. He invited both the men of the old school and the new school to join in helping him with the administration of the country. The speech made a favourable impression, and the opening ceremony has been regarded as an augury of useful work on the part of the new assembly.

There were only 45 present out of a total membership of 70, but this number is likely to be augmented as the other appointees reach the Capital.

THE QUEUE-CUTTING CAMPAIGN.

Foreigners must smile when they read of the regulations which have been issued by the Ministry of the Interior governing the "persuasion for queue-cutting" to be enforced by the chiefs of the various departments. In these regulations the people are gravely informed that such great men as Peter the Great and Mutsu-hito paid special attention among hundreds of other reforms to the cutting of the hair, and then they are advised that the cutting of the queue is not necessitated by the change of Government, but because of the dangers and inconvenience associated with the queue, such as dangers in factories, and so on. If the people should not be convinced by this reasoning, they are told that "untidy and dirty coiffures invariably arouse the derision of visitors." Offices are to be established for "persuading the people to cut their queues," and officers are told how they should proceed to deal with the different classes. Coolies are to be plainly told that if they do not comply with the order within a given time they will be suspended from their employment, officials and their servants are to part with their queues or lose their positions, but merchants are to be reached by means of the lecture hall and persuaded to have their locks shorn. The situation in Peking especially would be amusing were it not so tragic. It cannot redound to the dignity of the Government to accept responsibility for the scenes witnessed in the streets these days of policemen chasing shrieking coolies seeking to deprive them of their treasured locks. But China is a queer country.

FILIAL PIETY.

As an illustration of how old impracticable notions survive even in these modern days may be quoted the instances of a man somewhere in Yunnan whose "filial piety" is reported to the Minister of the Interior. This man died "from grief over the death of his father," and as this is a deed not easily accomplished and one which should be honoured, the Minister has given instructions in accordance with the regulations for honouring worthy persons that a tablet be erected with the inscription "eminent in filial conduct" as an encouragement to the common people. If the common people followed this example there would soon be no fears of the "yellow peril" which so many foreigners worry about.

INTERNATIONAL SPORTS CLUB.

The proposal which I mentioned last week for the establishment of an international race club was discussed at an informal meeting in the Peking Club, and was favourably received. The proposal, however, is likely to become much greater than the promoters contemplated, there being suggestions under discussion now that golf links, tennis courts, and facilities for other sports should be provided; that, in short, something of the nature of a country club should be formed in the vicinity of the Temple of Agriculture.

AN INTERESTING SUGGESTION.

As the result of the heavy rainstorm of this week, practically the first fall of rain in eight months, it has been suggested that pending the time when a modern system of drainage can be contemplated the existing drains built of brick and covered in should be utilised to some extent. This can be done at comparatively little cost, and would contribute in some small degree to the sanitary improvement of the city.

SUMMER HOUSE.

It is announced that those employed in Government offices only work now from 8 to 12, this being the usual arrangement in summer.

AN EASTERN NEWSPAPER'S JUBILEE.

The N. C. Daily News (Shanghai) on Wednesday last published a special number to mark its Jubilee. The congratulatory messages printed include letters from President Yuan Shih-kai, Sir John Jordan, H.B.M.'s Minister at Peking, M. Doumergue, who wrote while for a brief period he was Prime Minister of France, and from the Editors of several London papers; a congratulatory poem of eighteen verses by Archdeacon Moule; and some amusing verses by Mr. J. O. P. Bland. Mr. R. S. Gundry, who was Editor of the paper in its early days, contributes a column or so of reminiscences and there are besides articles on old Shanghai illustrated by many excellent reproductions of photographs. There is an striking symbolical picture of "Madame North China Daily News" receiving congratulations on attaining her Jubilee. The drawing is by "Valdar." Another feature of the issue which will interest old Shanghai residents is "H.H.'s" cartoons of three former editors.

We add our own to the many felicitations our contemporary has already received. We stand to the N. C. Daily News in the relationship of an elder brother, for the Hongkong Daily Press celebrated its Jubilee nearly seven years ago, having commenced publication on October 1st, 1857, and though weekly newspapers previously existed both in Hongkong and Canton, the Hongkong Daily Press enjoys the distinction of being the oldest daily newspaper in the Far East.

THE NEW GOVERNOR OF KWANGTUNG.

The newly-appointed Civil Governor of Kwangtung, Li Kuo Kwan, arrived in the Colony on Sunday, on his way to Canton, and made an official landing from the cruiser Hoi Sum at Blake Pier. His Excellency was accompanied by Admiral Li Wo, the Vice-Minister of the Navy, who has been deputed to carry into effect the arrangement made at Peking during Vice-Admiral Jerram's recent visit, for the suppression of piracy. The two distinguished visitors were met by Captain Alison (A.D.C. to H.E. the Governor), the guard of honour being furnished by non-commissioned officers and men of the 40th Pathans.

After a visit to Government House, the visitors attended a reception at the Chinese Club, at which the Hon. Mr. Lau Chi Pak presided.

The Civil Governor left for Canton later in the day.

THE DECREASE OF PLAGUE.

During the week ending July 4th there were but 20 cases of plague reported, 10 of which proved fatal. Ten deaths occurred in the city of Victoria. Since January 1st there have been 2,037 cases of plague, and 1,806 deaths.

In the same period there was one fatal Chinese case of diphtheria, and also of small-pox. There were also three cases of enteric fever, including one British, but none proved fatal.

ONEROUS QUARANTINE IN JAPAN.

We take the following from the Japan Gazette of the 25th ult.:—

Complaint is becoming loud among merchants and shippers, Japanese and foreign, in regard to the rigorous quarantine regulations still maintained in Japan as against Hongkong, and certainly it would appear that the time has come to relax this additional restriction on trade. The plague records at Hongkong show a steady reduction in the number of cases, as the following list shows:—

For week ending May 16th 241 cases
For week ending May 23rd 218
For week ending May 30th 112
For week ending June 6th 92
For week ending June 13th 81
For week ending June 20th 53

Yet vessels calling at Hongkong when they arrive in Japan are still "held up," sometimes for as many as four days, in order to comply with the regulations. This means a heavy loss not only to the steamship lines but also to Japanese and foreign exporters whose cargo is delayed in shipment, and is a loss which the Government would naturally wish to remove as early as possible. Of course, everyone appreciates the efficient precautions Japan takes against the "scourges" of the Orient when necessary arises, but with the careful quarantine safeguards at Hongkong, vessels, which are given a clean bill there on leaving, run practically no risk of bringing away the slightest infection, and are moreover always subject to specially rigid inspection here, which would appear to guarantee their condition. The new regulations requiring them to "delay their arrival in and departure from Japan are, therefore, to an extent, regarded as superfluous even when plague at Hongkong could be described as "racing." Now, therefore, when the number of cases is so greatly reduced as shown, the hardship is naturally more keenly felt. We are sure, however, that the authorities sympathise with those thus hampered in carrying on the country's foreign trade and will remove these restrictions at the earliest opportunity.

HOME AND CHINA AFFAIRS.

(FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.)

LONDON, June 10th.

ADMIRAL SIR PERCY SCOTT'S NONSHELL.

Admiral Sir Percy Scott has indeed set the Service Clubs talking by his declaration that all battleships except submarines and aeroplanes are now obsolete because of the deadliness of the submarine torpedoes and the all-seeing powers of the aviator. It is rather good news to the pacificators to find that all the expenditure on naval armament is thrown away. Henceforth the peace advocate will be quoting Sir Percy in season and out of it. Touching the protection of the trade routes he thinks if the exits of the North Sea and the Mediterranean were bottled up with submarines we would be as well off as ever. Meanwhile we have the assurance of Mr. Winston Churchill that we are well ahead of all nations in submarine craft, and as to the aviation wing—well, if personal observation will equip us, Winston is the man, for he is flying every day, and recently had to assure a Scottish M.P. solemnly that he made an exception of Sundays.

A CITY SENSATION.

The sensation in the City came at the end of the week in the suspension of the house of Messrs. Chaplin, Milne, Grenfell & Co., Ltd., though there had been rumours in circulation for some time of an impending crisis. This house has been badly nipped in the depression of Canadian stock, for it has been concerned in many of the large flotations of the last few years. The name of Grenfell has long been famous in the City, and it is to be hoped that the present difficulties will not bring its participation in high finance to a conclusion. The suspension emphasises the fact that things are exceptionally bad in the City just now, especially among those who have Canadian interests. I heard the other day that a former company promoter was turning a barrel organ in North London. I don't know how far that can be relied upon, but that organ-grinding is approaching the dignity of a profession—there can be no doubt. The other day a top-hatted individual in a morning coat and immaculate spats was seen turning the handle of an automatic music machine in Westminster, with a card announcing that he had descended through hard luck from a good position in a City bank. Of late also there has been seen a girl of refined appearance with a barrel organ and a notice proclaiming that she was a governess but was unable to get work. I asked a man the other day, skilled in the ways of how London lives, what had become of all the Italians who used to make the street air of the town throb with the strains of popular tunes, and he replied, "They're gone to America."

THE WILD WOMEN.

Probably of all people in this realm, the King and Queen dislike the tactics of the wild women of the militant suffrage camp more than others. Wherever they go, their Majesties are in danger of being made the target of the shrieking sisterhood—if the women will own to any such feminine thing as sisterhood. At the Theatre, the Horse Show and even at the Court itself, the women force their way and make the scene discordant with their outcry. What time they have to spare from burning old churches and the houses of widows they devote to the disturbing of religious services. Sunday at Westminster Cathedral and the Brompton Oratory will be memorable to those who attended the services as exhibiting the worst side of these demented suffrage-hoologians. But at the latter place they caught a tartar, or several of them, for the women of the congregation, a fashionable one, turned on the interrupters and by the time they had managed to escape they were hatless, dishevelled, and in some cases bleeding from the mouth. In fact mere men had to defend them from their own sex. There can be no doubt that the public temper is roused and the "leader" of one of the Conservative morning papers, urging the Government to repeal the Cat and Mouse Act and "let them die," merely reflects the opinion of a large section of public opinion. In the parks and public places where the militant suffragettes are wont to appear the anger of the hitherto good-humoured crowd is seen in meeting violence with violence. They are being chased from every vantage ground where up to now they have been treated with easy tolerance. We are told that it is all due to the orders of Christabel Pankhurst, who keeps safely at a distance while she urges the deluded girls who have joined the movement—many of them for pay—to fresh excesses. Now we have disclosures showing that they are smuggling drugs into the prisons to make militant prisoners sick and so hasten their release. Truly it is a sorry farce.

The relatives of the Misses Blomfield, the girls who made a suffragette scene at Court, are making no secret of their disgust at the conduct of the zealots. Lady Blomfield, the mother of Miss Mary Blomfield, the chief offender, is a beautiful woman, and an idealist to her finger tips. She is an ardent Bahaiist and recites short prayers and aphorisms in a contemplative voice preparatory to a discussion on the Bahai cult, which is a sort of diluted Pantheism. Princess Karadja is another enthusiast on the subject, and used to attend Lady Blomfield's gatherings until she began a Bahaiist circle of her own. The Eastern mystic who heads the movement, while in London on a visit from Persia, found Lady Blomfield so ardent an admirer that she gave up her flat in Cadogan Gardens to him and his Persian and Turkish followers. She herself went with her daughters to stay with friends and only went to her own flat as a worshipper every afternoon. The lively rôle of Miss Blomfield in the Court episode demonstrates how wide is the liberty of the modern daughter and to what an extent she lives her own life nowadays, apart from the maternal wing—running her own engagements, giving her own dinners, issuing her own invitations, quite independent of mamma.

SAFER LIFE-JACKETS.

ATTITUDE OF THE BOARD OF TRADE.

According to the narrative of the first officer of the Storestad, floating masses were discovered in the water after the Empress of Ireland sank, "which on examination proved to be people with heads drooping beneath the surface, hanging limply in lifebelts."

As the two greatest shipping disasters of recent years occurred in calm water—those to the Titanic and Empress of Ireland—it seems highly desirable that attention should be directed to the type of life-jackets employed. Life-jackets are, when boats fail, the last hope of the non-swimmer.

The Times understands that the Board of Trade is seriously considering a proposal only to approve life-jackets which automatically turn the persons encased on to their backs and prevent their heads from falling into the water. Such jackets would prevent the drowning of persons through fainting in the water, which is believed to have been a frequent cause of loss of life. An impartial examination of the best type of life-jackets available would be in the interests of the travelling public.

ANKLES SWOLLEN AND SKIN OFF

Caused by Friction. Inflammation Set-In. Used Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment Alone. In Two Weeks Quite Right Again.

O. Heights Croft, Marston Heights, Brierfield, Eng.—"My husband is an insurance agent and a good many of his calls are on the country districts, and for this reason he purchased a pair of strong boots. After one of his long rounds he came home with one of his ankles swollen and the skin off, caused by the friction of the strong leather on the ankle. I applied a well-known ointment, but it got worse instead of better, then inflammation set in. This was going on for a fortnight. I had sent for my samples and they arrived just at this time, so I commenced to use them at once, with the result that the first application was not only most soothing but it soon started to improve. I continued with Cuticura Soap and Ointment alone and after two weeks it is quite right again. I may say that I applied Cuticura Ointment to my chapped hands with pleasing results." (Signed) Mrs. S. Bacon, Marston, 22, 1912.

A single cake of Cuticura Soap and box of Cuticura Ointment are often sufficient when all else has failed. Sold throughout the world. A sample of each with 32-p. Skin Book free from nearest depot: F. THE EASTERN PIONEER CO.

WELL-KNOWN MEN AMONG THE SHAREHOLDERS.

We announced yesterday (says the Financial News of the 10th ult.) on the authority of Reuters Agency, that arrangements are being concluded between the Eastern Pioneer Co. and two important British houses whereby the resources of the Province of Szechuan will be developed by British capital. The arrangements, which are in process of conclusion in London, are stated to meet all the desires of the Chinese Government.

The Eastern Pioneer Co., Ltd., was registered in October, 1899, with a nominal capital of £300,000 in £1 shares, to adopt an agreement with Wm.
Pritchard Morgan, M.P., and to carry on business as land, estate, and mine owners, explorers, prospectors, miners, metallurgists, quarrymen, timber merchants, and mill owners. In January, 1902, a circular (signed "Geo. T. Broad-bridge, secretary") was sent to shareholders inviting subscriptions for 25,000 shares, forming a portion of 49,999 unissued shares. The circular said:
"At the formation of the company provision was made for a working capital of £100,000, and 50,000 of the fully-paid shares allotted to the original concession-aires were set apart as a bonus for the provision of that capital. Out of the 49,993 shares in reserve the directors have resolved to issue 25,000, and, with the co-operation of the vendor, 25,000 fully-paid concessionaire shares will be available as a bonus to the subscribers of this £25,000, in the proportion of one bonus share for each share subscribed for. The provision of this capital and the very large interest which the company holds in the British and Korean Corporation, Ltd., which acquired the Korean Concession, should place the company in a thoroughly sound and strong position."

In February, 1907, a prospectus was filed, offering 300 first mortgage debentures of £100 each, repayable on December 31st, 1908, carrying interest at 8 p.c.
p.a. The debentures were to be secured by (1) a first mortgage over the Morgan Concession, province of Szechuan, (2) deposit with trustees of 200,000 ordinary shares of the British and Korean Corporation, Ltd., (3) a floating charge on the undertaking and general assets. The prospectus stated that nearly one-half interest in the British and Korean Corporation was held by Messrs. Jardine, Matheson & Co. and their friends, and that the mines were under their management.

There has been some laxity in the filing of the company's returns, many of these being filed from three to eleven months after the statutory date, and the enactment that a company must hold a general meeting once at least in every year appears to have been honoured more in the breach than in the observance. The last annual summary was made up to December 31st, 1913 (no meeting having been held during the year), and filed on March 14th, 1914. It showed 250,007 shares issued, of which 50,007 had been fully paid up in cash and 200,000 were credited as fully paid there were no debentures or other charges requiring registration. There is nothing on the file to show that any of the debentures offered in 1907 were ever issued, and the balance-sheet to June 30th, 1908 (prior to which no company was required to file a balance-sheet), did not mention any debentures among the liabilities. The directors at the end of 1913 were: Colonel Weatherall, C.B., W. Pritchard Morgan,
J. W. Mayer, A. Diehl, and John Crisp.

As a copy of the balance-sheet to June, 1908, has been filed with every annual return from 1908 to 1913, it would appear that no later accounts have been prepared. At this date there was £4,693 due to creditors, and cash at bank amounted to £20. "The auditors remarked (inter alia) "The price originally paid for the assets acquired by the company and the expenditure since made by the company are included in full in the balance-sheet. The present value to the company of the expenditure in connection with Korea is of little or no value, and the value of the assets in China is very uncertain. The British Korean Corporation, Ltd., is in liquidation, and we are informed that the preference shares, which are included in the balance-sheet at cost, are of no value."

CHINESE TROUBLES.

SYMPTOMS OF FINANCIAL IMPROVEMENT.

THE PRESIDENT'S METHODS.

(BY "THE TIMES" CORRESPONDENT.)

PEKING, May 29nd.

Foreign opinion in Peking with regard to the situation in China has undergone a distinct modification within the past few weeks.

Two or three months ago, it is correct to say, the best-informed observers in the capital were decidedly pessimistic about the outlook, and serious persons were not lacking who predicted the rising of such a state of affairs as would necessitate foreign intervention in one form or another. The financial prospects, then, were decidedly gloomy. Sir Richard Dane estimated that the surplus revenue of the Salt Gabelle would probably be so small that it was not likely that the Five Power Banks would entertain proposals for a loan large enough to meet the recognized needs of the situation.

"White Wolf" had escaped the toils laboriously spread for him by the Government troops, and was rampaging unrestrainedly in fresh hunting-grounds, more than well out of reach of such feeble efforts as the Chinese Army could make to catch him. In many quarters it was then believed that "White Wolf" was inspired by, and was acting in collusion with, the revolutionary party, and that his ultimate object was the overthrow of the Government.

The revolutionary party, too, was supposed only to be waiting for a suitable opportunity to raise the flag of rebellion in Kwangtung province and at various points on the Yangtze. Meanwhile revenue from the provinces was only trickling into the capital, and was being spent as fast as it came in on the operations against "White Wolf."

Foreign debtors were clamouring for payment of long overdue debts, and threatening to proclaim the Chinese Government bankrupt in Europe because of the failure to honour large batches of Treasury bills held by them. Trade throughout the country was seriously hampered by the depreciated state of provincial notes, and feeling against the Government, because of its inability to take measures to protect the trading community in this respect, was assuming dangerous proportions.

THE REVOLUTIONARY PARTY.

By degrees, however, the difficulties that confronted the Government have become less serious, and for the moment it seems permissible to hope that better days are in store. "White Wolf" has been heard away from Szechuan, where he had been heard by the Government, and is now said to be easy to fan into flame, into the desert regions of Kansuh, where his depredations are less felt. The revolutionary party appears to have taken the recent assumption of autocratic powers by the President lying down. A few minor outbreaks have been nipped in the bud, and no evidence is forthcoming to suggest that there is any wide-planned concerted scheme to promote another rebellion. Financially things have decidedly improved. The Salt Gabelle collections have returned to a figure which has justified Sir Richard Dane after the retention of a million sterling to cover future liabilities, in releasing substantial surpluses which have been paid over to the Government account. In addition to this inflow from the salt, the Government claims at last to be receiving substantial contributions from the provinces. Moreover, an important step has been taken towards dealing with the provincial note question. In agreeing to the release of the salt surpluses the Five Power Banks stipulated for the devotion of the money—nearly $7,000,000 (£700,000)—to the alleviation of the note situation, and agreed besides to permit the employment for the same purpose of £1,000,000 out of the £2,000,000 provided in the Reorganization Loan for the purposes of the Salt Gabelle.

The result of all these encouraging signs has been to fill the Chinese with an optimism which the foreigner does not grudge them, but which he trusts will not lead them to underestimate the serious difficulties which still confront the country, and which must continue to confront it for many a long day. Yuan Shih-kai has burnt his boats so far as Young China is concerned. He suspended Parliament last year, and assumed entire responsibility for the conduct of affairs. This year he has recast the Nanking Constitution, divesting the people practically of any share in the government, and vesting in himself powers that in effect are dictatorial. Moreover, he has set up a Government in Peking from which Young China is excluded in favour of officials of the old régime. As fast as he can he is turning the Young Chinese out of office in the provinces, and putting in old-style men in their stead. Young China, in fact, proved themselves incapable of holding office, and very few will claim that they deserve to hold it. But Young China made the Revolution and bitterly resent their exclusion and the cancelling of the national rights for which they fought and bled. It is, therefore, difficult to believe that Young China will not always be a thorn in the side of Yuan Shih-kai, endeavouring to discredit his Government, if not actively rebelling against it. Military vigilance to guard against their intrigues will have to be observed unceasingly.

THE NOTE QUESTION.

The increased revenue from the provinces is largely due to the collection in one or two provinces of the title-deed registration tax, which, of course, is non-recurring. The salt surpluses promise to provide a substantial revenue in the future, but the fact that the money is coming to Peking means that the provinces are being deprived of some of the revenue which they formerly handled, and that their capacity to remit to Peking on general account is thereby diminished. The $17,000,000 being devoted to strengthening the provincial note issues is to be employed in Kwangtung and Hunan, and leaves many other provinces untouched. The whole problem of unsecured notes means the restoration of public confidence in a total in circulation of some $200,000,000, towards which $17,000,000 will not go very far. That is beginning in dealing with this problem only a beginning, and the problem remains to be solved. There is, too, the risk that the efforts of the Central Government to straighten out the note question may be frustrated by further issues by the provinces themselves. And "White Wolf" is still alive, and over a potential danger to the State, though for the time being he finds it expedient to retire out of the limelight into the obscurity of distant Kansuh.

But on the whole the prospect has definitely improved, for the principal reason that no party, nor any province, appears anxious to dispute the supremacy of the Central Government; in fact, because the Government is beginning to be recognized throughout the country. It must still be long before the Central Government can obtain complete control over the affairs of the provinces, but it is the case that the voice of Peking counts for something, where not long ago it counted for comparatively little. In view of the improved financial position the Chinese now talk of restricting the new loan to $7,500,000, sufficient only to pay off the short-term loans, and leaving such questions as note redemption on a comprehensive scale, and currency reform, for future consideration. There is the suspicion that they desire to borrow the smaller sum—they originally proposed $25,000,000—so that the surplus of the salt revenue shall be mainly available to themselves and not pledged to the banks. So long as the surplus is employed beneficially no harm will be done, and the banks certainly will be glad to be relieved of the responsibility of floating a large Chinese loan while the money market is tight, and financial requirements for industrial enterprise in China are so great.

An indication of the want of confidence in the Government among the trading community, which ought to disappear as the improvement becomes generally recognized, is to be found in the Customs receipts. These for the first three months of the year showed an increase of Tls. 1,000,000 over the corresponding period of last year, owing to a boom in imports. But the goods have been held up in the ports because native traders had banked their money in preference to risking it up country. In consequence receipts in April and May are below those of the corresponding months of last year, and may remain low for some months more. As the year advances, however, the expectation is that receipts will again expand, and result in the figures for the whole 12 months exceeding any hitherto recorded.

How to keep Healthy in the Hot Season.

"In the great heat of Lahore, where it is especially trying, Mr. Kensington and I have taken Sanatogen, and we have both found it a wonderful reviver and nerve tonic."

So writes the wife of Mr. Justice Kensington, and she adds: "Sanatogen is also the best cure for digestive troubles that I have come across."

Now, it is your nerves and digestion which suffer most during the excessive heat, that is why you particularly need a course of Sanatogen at this time of the year. Start taking it at once—it is certain to do you a great deal of good. It will enable you to stand the heat better, and to feel brighter and more vigorous, both physically and mentally, than would otherwise be possible.

Enrich your Blood.

Not only do your nerves and digestion need Sanatogen—your blood needs it too. For the blood deteriorates at this season; it becomes deficient both in red corpuscles—the oxygen carriers—and in white corpuscles, the "police-men" of the body, whose duty it is to slay disease germs when they get into the system. Sanatogen greatly multiplies these red and white corpuscles, thereby invigorating the whole system and increasing its powers of resistance to disease, so that you are much less likely to suffer from fevers, boils, liver affections, and stomach and bowel complaints which are so prevalent just now.

Sanatogen
THE FOOD-TONIC

There is another way in which Sanatogen proves of great service. Even temperate people are naturally inclined at this time to depend too much on alcohol and other stimulants as a means of counteracting the languor, depression and irritability from which all Europeans suffer. Sanatogen corrects this tendency, because it gives just that mental and emotional exhilaration which is needed—and gives it permanently, without any reaction or other injurious effects. This, of course, is due to its powerful, yet quite healthy and natural, influence on the brain cells.

Take Sanatogen regularly.

There is no doubt that you need Sanatogen—everybody does during this weather. And your own doctor will recommend you to take it regularly as a genuine and safe invigorator. Why not start taking it to-day—here and now—before your vital energy is further depressed by the heat? Buy a bottle at the nearest Chemist's. And drop us a post-card—mentioning this paper—for a Free Copy of "The Art of Living." Address: A. Wulff & Co., 6, Kiukiang Road, Shanghai.
